American Society for Matrix Biology Biennial Meeting

October 14-17, 2018 · Red Rock Casino Resort Spa · Las Vegas, NV

Biennial Meeting of the American Society for Matrix Biology “ECM Microenvironments in Disease, Aging, and Regeneration” October 14-17, 2018

Sponsorship Opportunities

ASMB: The American Society for Matrix Biology (ASMB) was founded in 2000 to advance knowledge in the field of extracellular matrix (ECM) biology and to enhance research and facilitate interactions among scientists and trainees, with the overall goal of furthering the application and translation of knowledge to impact human health. This field encompasses the structure and function of ECM components, the interactions of these components with cells, how these interactions influence intracellular signaling and gene expression, the orderly progression of these processes during development, and the alteration of these processes in hereditary and acquired diseases, particularly in tissue injury, repair, and aging. Hence, ECM biology and the 2018 ASMB meeting are clinically relevant to cancer, tissue engineering, stem cell biology, metabolic disease, wound healing/fibrosis, inflammation—factors pertinent to diseases across all organ systems.

ASMB theme and format: The focus of the 2018 meeting is on the ECM Microenvironments in Disease, Aging, and Regeneration. The program is comprised of member-developed Special Interest Sessions; Guest Society Symposia; Award presentations; Plenary Sessions on Novel Approaches and Technologies to Investigate the Extracellular Matrix, ECM in Health and Disease, Signaling to and from the Matrix, Genetic Disorders Affecting Connective Tissue, Therapeutic Strategies for ECM Diseases; and Concurrent platform sessions complemented by Poster Sessions. There are also Career and Women mentoring Women Breakfasts for ASMB trainees and young scientists. The venue at the Red Rock Canyon Resort has self-contained meeting space with ample room for informal socializing and discussions in proximity to exhibit space.

Meeting Participants: The 2018 ASMB Meeting represents a unique opportunity for scientists and medical professionals working in research, clinical, and applied disciplines related to ECM biology to meet, present data, discuss, learn, and network. With the society’s non-profit focus on investigation and education, and the innovative and original program, attendance is expected to exceed 300 participants, including both ASMB members and non-members. Attendees include basic scientists, bioengineers, and clinician scientists, as well as scientists from the biotech industry, at all levels of career development. Participation by the International Society for Matrix Biology (ISMB), the Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine International Society (TERMIS), Alport Syndrome Foundation, Matrix Biology Ireland and the Histochemical Society will expand the reach of this meeting.

Meeting Organizer: Lynn Sakai, (ASMB President Elect), Shriners Hospital for Children, Oregon Health and Science University
